▶ Dividend distribution and frequency:

Second and/or Third Subscript Letter	Dividend Distribution
No mention of D	Accumulating
DM	Declare dividends monthly
DQ	Declare dividends quarterly (declared and paid in January, April, July, and October)
DMC1	Declare dividends monthly and distribution may be sourced from capital from time to time
DY	Declare dividends annually

▶ Hedged share classes:

Hedged share classes allow investors to invest in a different currency from the base currency of the fund, minimizing the ongoing exchange rate risk between their investment currency and the base currency of the fund.

The hedged share classes aim to provide investors with a return correlated to the base currency performance of the fund, by reducing the effect of exchange rate fluctuations between the base and the hedged currency.

Do note that the hedges are not perfect due to a few factors which may impact returns. Before electing to invest in a hedged share class, an investor should bear in mind that they are electing to gain exposure to the currency of the hedge. All gains/losses or expenses arising from the hedging transactions are also borne separately by the investor.
